

This research work has not been yet finished...

The first results show that the holy scripture does not respect some statistical rules (that are respected by the physical and natural phenomena), and is consequently beyond those rules and restrictions.

